Overview

The new products incorporate Longi's HPBC2.0 technology, which features a unique bypass diode structure that allows blocked current to reroute independently when encountering shade, resulting in over 70% less power loss compared to traditional TOPCon products, according to the. The new products incorporate Longi's HPBC2.9% efficiency at the 2025 SNEC trade show this week in Shanghai, produced using both low- and high-temperature passivation techniques. Chinese solar module manufacturer Longi unveiled a new solar module this week at the SNEC 2025. The Hi-MO X10 module series provides up to 665 watts of power and is designed with an annual linear degradation rate of 0.0% cell technology and has a power conversion efficiency of. Since its establishment, the company has adhered to innovation-driven development, and ensured that photovoltaic panels have high efficiency and long life by continuously optimizing the production process and improving product performance.
