

Paraguayan company purchases solar panels

Overview

In a strategic pivot, Raízen, Brazil's energy powerhouse, is cashing in on its solar investments. The company has agreed to sell 31 solar projects, totaling 115.4 MWp, to Elis Energia for a cool R$ 700 ($130) million. 7 million in revenue since 2020. This move aligns with the country's broader energy goals, which include ambitious large-scale developments like the 140MW. Paraguay exports more electricity than soybeans or beef, yet power cuts remain part of daily life across the country. For Félix Letkemann, 31, one of the founders of Chaco Solar, that contradiction is not theoretical. Chaco Solar, founded. Andes Solar, a leading company in developing renewable energy projects across Latin America, has partnered with EPESA, one of Paraguay's primary energy companies, to enhance renewable energy in Paraguay. Focusing on solar, hydrogen fuel, and biofuels, the country aims to secure energy independence and reduce reliance on hydrocarbons.
